Content Is Informational Only, Not Advice, and Use Hereof Does Not Create an Attorney-Client Relationship

Thank you for visiting the web site of The Fraser Law Firm, P.C. (“FLF”). The information contained on this FLF website, fraserlawpc.com (the “Website”) is provided for educational and informational purposes only. The contents of this site are not and should not be construed as legal advice. The Website is not an offer to perform services on any matter. An attorney-client relationship is only formed with FLF upon the complete execution of a valid FLF engagement agreement. This Website contains general information from a variety of sources and might not reflect current legal and/or factual developments pertinent to any particular matter. We do not undertake to update material in our Website to reflect subsequent legal or other developments.

Privacy Policy

As you navigate within the Website, FLF may be collecting and tracking personal information, either by asking you to tell FLF something about yourself (such as your name, address, email address, etc.) or by using data-tracking software that tells us what parts of the Website you have browsed. FLF may collect other information about you, such as your IP address, geographic information, the type of the web browser and operating system you use, and any other information that your web browsing software or Internet Service Provider automatically provides to our Website. We may be collecting and tracking information about the activities in our Website you engage in to help us know what users are interested in. We may also use “cookies” to keep track of visitors. A cookie is a small file stored on the hard drive of your personal computer. If your web browser allows, you may disable the placement of cookies on your hard drive. Disabling the placement of cookies may prevent you from accessing or using portions of the Website. Except as provided below, the Website does not currently share or sell any other information. Except as provided herein, no personally identifiable information is collected beyond that which is identified in this section of the Website Terms. You agree that we may aggregate any information which we collect or maintain, and that we may use such aggregated information for internal analysis or for marketing purposes. We may disclose aggregate, de-identified data (i.e. stripped of information that identifies you) to third parties in connection with such analysis and/or marketing. By using the Website, you expressly assent to the collection and use of the limited information identified. We may disclose your information to: (1) comply with applicable laws; (2) respond to governmental inquiries; (3) comply with valid legal process; (4) protect our rights or property; or (5) facilitate your request for a free case evaluation.

No Relationship or Obligation Arises from Use of the Website

The law differs in every jurisdiction, and you should not rely on any opinion except from that of an attorney you have retained, who has a professional duty to advise you after being fully informed of all the pertinent facts, and who is licensed in the applicable state, and is familiar with the applicable law. Internet subscribers and online readers should seek professional counsel about their legal rights and remedies. You should not act or refrain from acting on the basis of any information found on this Website. Any actions or decisions about your legal rights should be based on the particular facts and circumstances of your situation, and appropriate legal advice from. FLF expressly disclaims all liability with respect to actions taken or not taken based upon any information or other contents of this site. Viewing the FLF Website, or communicating with FLF by Internet, e-mail, or through this Website, does not constitute or create an attorney-client relationship with anyone. The content and features on this Website do not create, and are not intended to create, an attorney-client relationship, and shall not be construed as legal advice. The content and features of this Website, including means to submit a question or seek information, do not constitute an offer to represent you.

Confidentiality is Not Guaranteed

Any information sent to FLF via social media, e-mail, or through the Website is not secure and is done on a non-confidential basis. FLF respects the privacy of any person who contacts our firm, and we will make reasonable efforts to keep information private, but because of the nature of Internet communications and the absence of an attorney/client relationship, we cannot promise or guarantee confidentiality.

Additional Terms of Use

Any use of this Website is subject to the complete Terms of Use. By using this Website, you agree to these Terms as well as the Disclaimer provisions on this page.

DISCLAIMER – This Site Does Not Provide Medical Diagnosis or Advice

The content provided on this Website, such as documents, text, graphics, images, videos, or other materials, are for informational purposes only. The information is not intended to be a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. Always consult a physician for diagnosis and treatment of any medical condition or for any questions you may have regarding a health concern. Never disregard professional medical advice or delay in seeking it because of something you have read or seen on this Website. Links to other sites are provided for information only. Use of trade names is for identification only and does not constitute endorsement by FLF.

Terms of Use

Thank you for visiting the Website. This Website was created by FLF so that you could learn more about the legal services that we offer and other information related to the law. These contents are for informational purposes only. None of the information at this Website is intended to constitute, nor does it constitute, legal advice, and none of the information necessarily reflects the opinions of FLF, its attorney(s) or clients. Please read our Disclaimer, which is incorporated into these Terms, for additional limitations on the use and effect of this Website. This “Terms of Use” outlines the conditions on which this web site is made available to you. Read the Terms of Use carefully. If you use this Website, you are deemed to have read, understood, and agreed to these Terms of Use. If you do not accept the Terms of Use, you should stop reading or otherwise using the web site or any materials obtained from it.

FLF Is Not Responsible for Content

FLF may periodically change, remove, or add the material in this Website without notice. This material may contain technical or typographical errors. FLF does not guarantee its accuracy, completeness or suitability. FLF assumes no liability or responsibility for any errors or omissions in the contents of this web site. Your use of this Website is at your own risk. Under no circumstances shall FLF or any other party involved in the creation, production or delivery of this Website be liable to you or any other person for any indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any kind arising from your access to, or use of, this Website. IN NO EVENT SHALL THE FRASER LAW FIRM, P.C. BE LIABLE FOR ANY SPECIAL, INDIRECT, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES RELATING TO THIS MATERIAL, FOR ANY USE OF THIS WEBSITE, OR FOR ANY OTHER LINKED WEBSITE.

Third-party Websites

This Website contains links to third party websites for the convenience of our users. FLF does not endorse any of these third-party sites and does not imply any association between FLF and those sites. FLF does not control these third-party web sites and cannot represent that their policies and practices will be consistent with these Terms of Use. If you use links to access and use such websites, you do so at your own risk. FLF is not responsible for the contents or availability of any linked sites. These links are provided only as a convenience to the recipient.

State Laws Vary

The attorney of FLF is only licensed to practice law in California and Florida. FLF, however, may elect to undertake legal representation in certain cases outside of these jurisdictions, and will affiliate with other legal counsel located throughout the country to provide legal representation in those matters. The laws of each State are different. This Website contains information about general or common rules that apply in some states. This Website also might contain information about rulings or settlements in past cases. You cannot assume that the same rules apply, or that the same result would occur, in your State or any particular State.

Legal and Ethical Requirements

FLF has endeavored to comply with all legal and ethical requirements in compiling this Website. We welcome comments about our compliance with the applicable rules and will update the Website as warranted, upon learning of any new or different requirements. We only want to represent clients based on their review of this Website, if it complies with all legal or ethical requirements. To the extent that the professional responsibility rules of any jurisdiction require us to designate a principal office or an attorney responsible for this Website, The Fraser Law Firm, P.C. designates its office its main office, 4120 Douglas Blvd #306-262, Granite Bay, California 95746.

State Advertising Disclosures

The hiring of a lawyer is an important decision that should not be based solely upon advertisements. Before you decide, ask us to send you free written information about our qualifications and experience.

Governing Laws in Case of Dispute; Jurisdiction

These Terms of Use shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of California, USA, without regard to any choice of law principles. Disputes arising hereunder shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state courts of California.

Arbitration

Any and all claims by you arising out of or related to this Website or your use thereof may be resolved only through a binding arbitration proceeding to be conducted under the auspices of the Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association in Sacramento, Sacramento County, California. Both your agreement to arbitrate all controversies, disputes and claims, and the results and awards rendered through the arbitration, will be final and binding on you and may be specifically enforced by legal proceedings. Arbitration will be the sole means of resolving such controversies, disputes and claims, and you waive your rights to resolve such controversies, disputes and claims by court proceedings or any other means. You agree that judgment may be entered on the award in any court of competent jurisdiction and, therefore, any award rendered shall be binding. The arbitrator may not consolidate more than one person's claims, and may not otherwise preside over any form of a representative or class proceeding. You understand that by agreeing to arbitration as a mechanism to resolve all controversies, disputes and claims between us, you are waiving certain rights, including the right to bring an action in court, the right to a jury trial, the right to broad discovery, and the right to an appeal. You understand that in the context of arbitration, a case is decided by an arbitrator (one or more), not by a judge or a jury.
